VOL. XVI.

SAN MARCOS, HAYS COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1887.

Letters that will Never Come.

With anxious features, worn and pale,
He waits the coming of the mail—
Each day he asks, with hope and fear,
"My letter, is my letter here?"
Each day he hears in silence dumb,
"Not yet, old man, it has not come."
The harmless madman, old and gray.
No one would jeer or drive away.
"Ah me!" he says, "long years have past,
But it will come, 'twill come at last,"
And so he waits in silence dumb
The letter that will never come.

The letter that will never come.

The leaping pulses of his vouth,

The letter that will never come

Alas! his poor old wits are fled,

And so he asks it, o'er and o'er The same old question as before. He wakes each morning light to say,

My letter-it will come to-day.

And hear with every new regret.

And so he waits in silence dumb The letter that will never come.

Ah, me! poor madman, even we Are dupes of fickle destiny, In ceaueless hope we waiting sit

For missives that were never writ. We wait to see the bavest grown Of seed that we have never sown,

We seek the harbor mouth, to bail

We wait to see our garners filled

For letters that will never come.

With fruit of trees we have not tilled.

We wait in gathering stillness, dumb,

"Peterson" for November is before us t is evidently determined to go out, this year, with flying colors. The steel-plate is the finest of the year: it is a copy of one of Millais's most charming pictures of child-ren—the portrait of pretty little Miss Muffet, of nursery fame. The wood engraving, "Three Home-Rulers," is, in its way, equally noticeable: it is the loveliest production of Kate Greenway's facile pencil. The fashion-plates display their usual excellence, the promise of even greater attractions for the coming twelvemouth. "Peterson" has earned the right to style itself a magazine of -Exchange.

The vessel that will never sail.

With tottering limbs that almost fail,

He creeps each morning to the mail.

Not yet, old man, not yet, not yet."

He cannot know that she is dead,

A strong, strange joy he feels again The old old fever in his brain—

An angry word, a careless tone— And she has gone and he's alone; Since then he waits in silence dumb

Through misty vision of his tears, He sees the long, far saddened years, The past comes up before him there, When he was strong and she was fair, Once more he feels in very truth

TO ADVERTISERS. The Free Press Recognized by Geo. P. Rowell & Co., as Ahead as an Advertising Medium.

The well known advertising agency of Geo.P.Rowell & Co., of New York City, have issued an annual Newspaper Directory for thirty years or more, and these publications have been generally recognized as authority as to the matter of newspaper circulation. In the regular issues of the Directory they have included all the newspapers published in the United States and Canada. Quite in the United States and Canada. Quite recently, however, they have issued a condensed list. It gives only the best newspapers as advertising mediums, and hence is practically better, because more convenient, than their larger Directory. Four-fifths of the newspapers of the United States are practically "counted out" by intelligent adventisers who only want to know the best. vertisers, who only want to know the best, Hence the value of the work under notice.

The publishers in the preface well say:
"It sifts the wheat from the chaff. It directs the attention of an advertiser toward papers which he should and ought to use, and tends to intercept a portion of that pa-tronage which goes to publications which cost greatly in excess of any power to benefit which they possess. It takes the general ground, that the best is the cheapest."

We need scarcely say that on this plan, the FREE PRESS is given by this book (see page 158) as the advertising medium of San Marcos and Hays county, it being the only one on the list. We respectfully invite the attention of advertisers, both at home and abroad, to this fact.
